Dome lift

Current information on the dome lift is available at visit-hannover.com/en/domelift

The New Town Hall

The New Town Hall was built at the beginning of the 20th century in the opulent style of the Wilhelmine Period. Up to its golden tip, the dome measures a vast 97.73 metres. An inclined lift takes you to a viewing platform. From here visitors can take in a wonderful view of Hannover. Inside, models of the city illustrate the development of Hannover in four phases: 1689, 1939, the post-war period in 1945 and today.

The Red Thread

A painted line, 4,200 metres in length, takes visitors around Hannover to architectural, historical and entertaining sights. Follow the Red Thread and discover the city from a new perspective. An accompanying brochure on the Red Thread is available at Tourist Information.

Eilenriede

Europe's largest municipal forest lies in the heart of Hannover. 640 hectares of woods offer space for all kinds of activities. And with a bit of luck, you might spot deer, foxes or bats. Nature at its best!

Public art

In Hannover, art is even on the street! You can find works by major artists, such as The Nanas by Niki de Saint Phalle, on nearly every street corner. The city boasts more than 200 sculptures, designs and installations.

The public transport service also has an exciting project. Nine prominent designers and architects, such as Frank Gehry, have created exceptional bus shelters. Take a free trip down culture lane in Hannover!

Maschsee Lake

Maschsee Lake is an oasis in the middle of the city. There are plenty of sporting activities in and around the lake, ranging from rowing, trips on pedalo boats, running or skating. To relax, head for the Strandbad bathing area, idyllic beer gardens and restaurants. Visitors can experience Hannover from a truly special perspective during a trip on the Maschsee boats which leave daily from Good Friday until the end of October from each of the six boarding points.

In the heart of the Old Town

The Old Town with its historic half-timbered buildings is one of Hannover's unique sights. The striking Market Church and the Old Town Hall are the southernmost examples of North-German brick Gothic. Wander through picturesque streets, discover exclusive boutiques and tempting cafés and restaurants. Ballhofplatz is one of the city's most delightful squares. Just a stone's throw away you can relax on the banks of the River Leine. Germany's oldest flea market takes place here on Saturdays.

A relaxed shopping experience

Hannover is a great place to shop, whether you're on a shopping spree or simply need to run a quick errand. The shops are not far apart and the transport links are excellent. The pedestrian zone is one of Germany's most popular retail centres.

The city centre – exclusive and in a style of its own

Ernst-August-Galerie is a cutting-edge shopping mall with a modern urban appeal that comprises 150 stores and catering outlets. Niki-de-Saint-Phalle-Promenade, Kröpcke-Passage and Galerie Luise offer a diverse mix of shops to suit all tastes.

Opposite the Opera House, haute couture outlets and high-class jewellers attract shoppers to Georgstrasse, Hannover's exclusive shopping boulevard. The showcase boutiques continue in Luisenstrasse, Theaterstrasse and Königsstrasse. An abundance of restaurants, bistros and cafés entices shoppers to take a break. In the city's districts trendy shops offer very special styles.

Hannover's Marksmen's Festival

The world's biggest marksmen's festival lasts ten days and ten nights. This traditional festival is a good-humoured, high-spirited event. The huge funfair with all its attractions guarantees a fantastic atmosphere. Thrilling funfair rides sweep you up and away and a swig of the traditional "Lüttje Lage" puts everyone in a good mood. The highlight is the Marksmen's Parade with around 12,000 people taking part. Marksmen, marching bands, floats and horse-drawn carts march from the Town Hall to Schützenplatz (fairground), with tens of thousands of people lining the route.

enercity swinging hannover

On Ascension Day a musical highlight called "enercity swinging hannover" is organised by Hannover's jazz club. More than 10,000 jazz fans meet at the Town Hall to listen to musicians from all over the world. As a taster, the legendary jazz band ball is held the night before in Hannover's Congress Centre.

Let's have a party – Maschsee Lake Festival

Since 1986, Hannover has been celebrating a huge festival and attracting visitors from near and far. The event features concerts, cabaret and culinary specialities. With around two million visitors, the Maschsee Lake Festival is one of north Germany's biggest open-air parties. Located directly on the water, several stages provide a programme to cater for all ages and tastes. The Mediterranean flair ensures a carefree ambience – it's hard to believe that the party venue is northern Germany.

Party weekend at Lake Steinhude

Fireworks over Lower Saxony's biggest lake, accompanied by classical music and illuminated boats form the climax. The party weekend is the yearly highlight in Lake Steinhude's event calendar. At this festival, people of all ages get together to experience live music and culinary treats.

Christmas markets

The festive sounds, romantic lights and tempting smells emanating from the Christmas market in the historical Old Town create an exceptional atmosphere. Glass blowers, potters and candle-makers ply their skilled trades. And, of course, the Christmas tree is adorned with decorations from the Erzgebirge Mountains and Thuringian Forest too.

Medieval atmosphere in the Burgstrasse

Flambéed salmon on Ballhofplatz

Around 170 stalls invite visitors to browse, wander around, watch, or indulge themselves with a tasty treat. One of the annual highlights is the Finnish Christmas village with a real Lapland tent on Ballhofplatz. Finnish specialities and handicrafts are on offer there. A round tour takes you to a historical Christmas village that demonstrates town life in the Middle Ages in all its modesty. The "Wunschbrunnenwald", or Wish-ing-well forest, an area some 400 square metres in size with 50 firs, provides an atmospheric oasis of calm in the turbulent run-up to Christmas.

Baroque garden pleasures

Herrenhausen Gardens are Hannover's top attraction and have been a striking example of grand horticultural style for over 300 years. In 2015 they received the European Garden Award. The centrepiece, the "Great Garden", is one of Europe's most important baroque gardens and is a magnet for tourists from all over the world. Just like the ladies and gentlemen of the court in centuries gone by, visitors today can stroll around amidst opulently designed beds, splendid sculptures and artistically clipped, illuminated hedges.

Herrenhausen Palace Museum

Baroque meets modern

Herrenhausen Palace, restored on its original site in the Great Garden, not only boasts a modern conference centre, but also the Herrenhausen Palace Museum – organised by the state capital of Hannover and sponsored by the Federal State of Lower Saxony. The museum hosts exhibitions on subjects relating to Herrenhausen and Hannover. It is located opposite the "Berggarten", an impressive botanic garden with an exotic display of flowers all year round.
